Oregon Historic Site Record

capitals. Dentils and brackets. OTHER: Encircling front porth with Doric columns. ALTERATIONS: Creating removed from roof, n.d. Facade windows altered n.n. Addition to rear of house, 1975. ASSOCIATED STRUCTURES: Garage, utility barn, pump house, chicken house, sheds. Utility barn has brick foundation. The outbuildings have been moved and are not in their original location. LANDSCAPE: Monkey puzzle tree. Four Giant Sequoia Trees planted by John F. Broetje. G vines (as of 6-86, 60 - 70 yrs. Old) - could be associated with Broetje vineyard at the John F. Broetje House @ 14005 SE Oatfield Road (National Register Proper large lot with many agricultural outbuildings. On moderate-to-heavily traveled road. In neighborhood of early and mid-20th century residential buildings. The setti this house, despite its contemporary suburban residential surroundings, is remarkable. Several barns, sheds, and chicken coops are extant. The largest outbuild moved closer to the house when surrounding property was sold. HISTORY (Chronological, descriptive history of the property from its construction through at least the historic period - preferably to the present) SUBJECT PROPERTY The John R. Oatfield House is a very good example of Colonial Revival style architecture. The rectangular plan, dentils, Doric columns, . pliasters with caps are typical Colonial Revival elements. The use of narrow shiplap seems to indicate a sensitivity on the part of the designer to the scale of the The carved eave brackets on this 1903 house display an influence lingering from the earlier Italianate style, which was popular in Oregon from 1855 until 1890. Royal Oatfield was the son of pioneer, Michael Oatfield, who arrived in the Milwaukie vicinity in 1861. Here he purchased land from Ornin Kellogg, upon whose d land claim the subject house is located. Michael assembled 600 acres for orchards and farming . His sons, John R. and Phillip T., expanded the Kellogg orchand they put in Califield Road in the Oak Grove area was named for this	LOCATION AND PROPERTY NAME eases adverses: Dask Grove transpluring/serding reset: 28 15 12 AA PROPERTY CHARACTERISTICS resource type: Building height (tooffel: 1003 second date: 1073 total legesources: Building height (tooffel: 1073 total legesources: Building height (tooffel: 1073 total legesources: Building height (tooffel: 1073 total legesources: Second of use: prime ording use: prime ording use: Second of use: Promental absort Second and are in the commental: Second of use: Promental Board Control Revival: Second and Revival: S	address:						N/A / N/A / 07700 location description Qué Grove tomabping/security set: 28 12 12 A PROPENTY CHARWOULDERSTENTION resource type: S total inelig resources: elig evaluation: eligiple/controluting not also individualisation: S total inelig resources: prime const date: 1933 second date: 1973 date individualisation: S total inelig resources: prime syste: Colonial Revival orig use comments: second sign comments: seco
PROPERTY CHARACTERISTICS Total inelig resources: Status: Constatus:Certr
resource type:: Building height (stories): 1.5 total inelig resources: 5 total inelig resources: 9 total inelig resources:		ACTEDISTICS				, , , eig grunusion: eigbekonntbung prim constrate: 1903 second date: 1973 date indiv listed: 1973 date indiv listed: 1974 date indi			hoight (stories):	15	total	alia resources:	5 total ineli
prime construite: 1903 econd date: 1973 date indiv listed: prime yoring use: Single Dwelling control to the prime style comments: prime style comments: control with the prime style control with t	••	U U	• • •	1.5		-	5 total men	y resources.
second or guese: second any style: primary style: p	-	, and a second s	•	1973	date	indiv listed:
primary sivie: secondary siding: secondary siding: c set yee comments: siding comments: builder: primary siding: secondary siding: primary siding: secondary siding: pain type: Central Passage architect: builder: primary siding: primary siding: comments/notes: Central Passage Survey & Inventory Project 2008 columnary siding: primary siding: primary siding: primary siding: columnary siding: primary siding: primary siding: primary siding: columnary siding: primary siding: primary siding: primary siding: columnary siding: pri	primary orig use: Single Dwelling orig use comments:
secondary style: primary skile: primary skile: pri	•	Colonial Revival primary siding: plan type: Protocontal Board siding comments: buildor: Parrow shiplap. plan type: Central Passage architect: buildor: Parrow shiplap. comments/holes: "The Giant Sequipos of Oaffield Ridge" Herliage Tree Plaque, May 2008. Survey Southart Date Listed Date Compiled Clockamas County Trailey Line U.S 2008 Survey & Inventory Project 2008 2008 SHPO INFORMATION FORT THIS PROPERTY None 2008 2008 SHEO INFORMATION FORT THIS PROPERTY None Special Assesses None R.S. survey date: 09/30/2007 None Special Assesses None R.S. survey date: 09/30/2007 None Special Assesses None Color FORM AMTERIAS: Thrustee of the building program, setting, special assesses None Special Assesses None Federal Tax None Special Assesses None Special Assesses None Survey date: 06/01/1966 Special Assesses None Special Assesses None Write Sa wanded desception of the building program, setting, special Assesses None Special Assesses None Special Assesses None Specia secondary stding: plan type: Comments/notes: The Giant Seques of Oatfield Ridge' Hertiage Tree Plaque, May 2008. GROUPINGS / ASSOCIATIONS Survey (Srouping Included In: Clackames County Historic Landmarks Survey & Inventory Project Clackames County Historic Landmarks Survey & Inventory Project Survey & Inventory Project Clackames County Historic Landmarks Survey & Inventory Project Survey & Inventory Project Survey & Inventory Project Survey (Steller): None Survey (Steller): Survey (Steller): Steller): Survey (Steller): Survey (Steller): Survey (Steller): Survey (Steller): Survey (Steller): Survey (Steller): Survey (Steller): Survey (Steller): Survey (Steller): Survey		Horizontal Board	Horizontal Board			•	Nerrowshiples
builder: comments/notes: The Giant Sequipos of Daffield Ridge" Hertiage Tree Plaque, May 2008. GROUPINGS / ASSOCIATIONS Survey Grouping Included In: Type of Grouping Date Listed Date Compiled Clackamas County Historic Landmarks Survey & Inventory Project 2008 SHPO INFORMATION FOR THIS PROPERTY None 2008 Its survey at Inventory Oroject 0030/2007 None State Islated: NA Its Survey (atter) 0000/01/1986 OB01/1986 0030/2007 None None Project(s): None None None RACHETCURAL (PROPERTY DESCRIPTION None None None Rolos appoint of the buildingproperty, setting, significant Indicages features, stubuildings and alterations) None None Rolos appoint of the buildingproperty, setting, significant Indicages features, stubuildings and alterations of the non of the buildingproperty, setting, significant Indicages features, stubulicity and alterations of the stubulings. The control of the non of the buildings. The careliant from port Nath 2000 (Stubuling) None Rouber State S	secondary siding:				-		ivariow sniplap.
comments/notes: The Giant Sequipas of Oatfield Ridge" Herliage Tree Plaque, May 2008. GROUPINGS / ASSOCIATIONS Survey/Grouping Included In: Type of Grouping Date Listed Date Compiled Clackamas County Historic Landmarks Survey & Inventory Project 2008 SHPO INFORMATION FOR THIS PROPERTY None Special Assess None MR date listed: N/A None None Special Assess None None None Gate: 06/01/1986 None None ARCHITECTURAL / PCPERTY DESCRIPTION None None RODE FORM & MATERIALS: Tuncated hip roof PRIMARY WINDOW TYPE: Long, double-hung sash. Hid gomers. DECORATIVE FEATURES: Plasters with roge and are not in the roginal location. LANDSCAPE: None None Cabularities and are not in the roginal location. LANDSCAPE: None None None Capitals. Dentities and are not in the roginal location. LANDSCAPE: None None None Columbularities and are not in the roginal location. LANDSCAPE: None None None Rode of 646, 60 - 70 yrs. Oil - could be associated with Broelje vineyard at the John F. Broelje Mose godd John F. Broelje Godd National Register Property and Sudd None Ubualage for thm may agrouluria doubindings. On moder	plan type:	Central Passage	Central Passage
The Glant Sequioas of Oatfield Ridge" Hertiage Tree Plaque, May 2008. GROUPINGS / ASSOCIATIONS Survey (Grouping Included In: Type of Grouping Date Listed Date Compiled Clackamas Countly Historic Landmarks Survey & Inventory Project 2008 SHPO INFORMATION FOR THIS PROPERTY NR date listed: N/A LS survey De(01/1986
Survey(Grouping Included In: Type of Grouping Date Listed Date Compiled Clackamas County Historic Landmarks Survey & Inventory Project 2008 Clackamas County Trolley Line ILS 2008 Survey & Inventory Project 2008 SHPO INFORMATION FOR THIS PROPERTY Important State Survey(Grouping Included In: Type of Grouping Date Listed Date Compiled Clackamas County Historic Landmarks Survey & Inventory Project 2008 Clackamas County Trolley Line ILS 2008 Survey & Inventory Project 2008 SHPO INFORMATION FOR THIS PROPERTY Important State
Clackamas County Historic Landmarks Survey & Inventory Project 2008 Clackamas County Trolley Line ILS 2008 Survey & Inventory Project 2008 SHEO INFORMATION FOR THIS PROPERTY 2008 2008 R date listed: N/A N/A Special Assess None Special Assess Project(s): None None Project(s): None None None Clackamas County Trolley Line ILS 2007 Special Assess None Project(s): None None None Clackamas County Trolley Line IDS CRIPTION None None (RoOF FORM & MATERIALS, Tunnated hip roof PRIMARY WINDOW TYPE: Long, doubler, chicken house, sheds. Ulity hom has brick foundation. The outpluidings and alterations) ROOF FORM & MATERIALS, SOCATES, Garage, ulity barn, purp house, chicken house, sheds. Ulity hom has brick foundation. The outpluidings have been moved and are not in their original location. LANDSCAPE: Monkey puzzle tree, Gard Sequidit Road (National Road (Nation Road (National Road (National Road (Nat						rouping	Date Listed Date Compiled
SHPO INFORMATION FOR THIS PROPERTY IR date listed: N/A ILS survey date: 09/30/2007 RLS survey date: 09/30/2007 RLS survey date: 06/01/1986 Ob/01/1986 Special Assess Project(s): None ARCHITECTURAL / PROPERTY DESCRIPTION None (Includes expanded description of the building/property, setting, significant landscape features. outbuildings and alterations) None ROOF FORM & MATERIALS: Trancate thing property, setting, significant landscape features. outbuildings and alterations) ROOF FORM & MATERIALS: Plasters with capitals. Control of the building/property, setting, significant landscape features. outbuildings and alterations) ROOF FORM & MATERIALS: Plasters with capitals. Plasters with capitals. Addition to rear of house, 1975. ASSOCIATED STRUCTURES: Garage, uitify barn, pump house, chicken house, sheds. Julify barn has price/fildel Madu (Maional Register Proping) Landscape associated with Broetey integrand at the John F. Broeteje House @ 14005 SE Colfield Road (Maional Register Proping) Ling to with many agricultural outbuildings. On moderate-to-heavity traveled road. In neighborhood of early and mici 20th century residential buildings. The setting house, chicken house when surrounding property was sold. Chronological, descriptive history of the property form its construction through at least the historic perid- preferably to the present)
NR date iisted: N/A LS survey date: 09/30/2007 RLS survey date: 09/30/2007 RDS survey date: 06/01/1986 Architecrural: None Indiate: None Mone None Indiate: None Mone None Marchitals: Truncated hip roof PRIMARY WINDOW TYPE: Long, double-hung sash. Hip dormers. DECORATIVE FEATURES: Plasters with capitals. Dentils and brackets. OTHER: Encircling front porth with Doric columns. ALTERATIONS: Creating removed from roof. n.d. Facade windows altered n.o. Addition to rear of house, 1975. ASSOCIATED STRUCTURES: Garage, ultip bam, push pouse, chicken house, sheds. Julity bam hab srick foundation. The outbuildings have been moved and are not in their original location. LANDSCAPE: Monkey puzzel tree. Four Claint Sequola Trees planted by John F. Broetje House @ 14005 SE Claifield Road (Matonal Register Proping) raige lot with many agricultural outbuildings. On moderate-to-heavity traveled road. In neighborhood of early and mid-20th century residential buildings. The settil bis house, desple lis contemporary suburban residential surroundings, is remarkable. Several barns, sheds, and chicken coops are extant. The largest outbuild moved closer to the house when surrounding property was sold. HISTORY (Chronological. description history of the property from its construction through at least the historic period - prefrably to the present) SUBJECT PROPERTY The John R. Oatfield House is a very good example of Colonial Revival sity architect	Clackamas County Trolley Line ILS 2008 Survey & Inventory Project 2008							2008
ILS survey date: 09/30/2007 RLS survey date: 06/01/1986 Project(s): None ARCHITECTURAL / PROPERTY DESCRIPTION None (Includes expanded description of the building/property, setting, significant landscape features, outbuildings and alterations) None ROOF FORM & MATERIALS: Truncated hip roof PRIMARY WINDOW TYPE: Long, double-hung sash. Hip dormers. DECORATIVE FEATURES: Pliasters with capitals. Dentils and brackets. OTHER: Encircling front porth with Doric columns. ALTERATIONS: Cresting removed from roof, n.d. Facade windows altered, n.d. Addition to rear of house, 1975. ASSOCIATED STRUCTURES: Garage, utility barn, pump house, chicken house, sheds. Utility barn has brick foundation. The outbuildings have been moved and are not in their original location. LANDSCAPE: Monkey puzzle tree. Four Giant Sequencia Trees planeted by John F. Brotelje. Giant Sequencia Trees planeted by John F. Brotelje. Giant Sequencia Trees planeted by John F. Brotelje. Social diverse of the house, despite its contemporary suburban residential surroundings, is remarkable. Several barns, sheds, and chicken coops are extant. The largest outbuild moved closer to the house when surrounding property was sold. HISTORY (Chronological, descriptive history of the property from its construction through at least the historic period - preferably to the present) SUBJECT PROPERTY The John R. Oatfield House is a very good example of Colonial Revival Style architecture. The rectangular plan, dentils, Doric columns, ALTERATIONS example of the designer to the scale of the the caps are typical Colonial Revival style architecture. The rectangular plan, dentils, Doric columns, ALTERATIONS exampled to the design	SHPO INFORMATION FOR THIS PROPERTY
RLS survey date: 06/01/1986 Project(s): Federal Tax Project(s): None ARCHITECTURAL / PROPERTY DESCRIPTION (Includes expanded description of the building/inoperty, setting, significant landscape features, outbuildings and alterations) ROOF FORM & MATERIALS: Truncated hip roof PRIMARY WINDOW TYPE: Long, double-houng sash. Hip dormers. DECORATIVE FEATURES: Plasters with capitals. Dentils and brackets. OTHER: Enclicing from topt with Doric columns. ALTERATIONS: Creating removed from roof, n.d. Facade windows altered, n.d. Addition to rear of house, 1975. ASSOCIATED STRUCTURES: Garage, utility bam, pump house, chicken house, sheds. Utility bam has brick foundation. The outbuildings have been moved and are not in their original location. LANDSCAPE: Monkey puzzle tree. Four Claint Sequoia Trees planted by John F. Broetjel. G vines (as of 6.6, 60 - 70; N.G.OI) - could be associated with Broetje vineyard at the John F. Broetje House @ 14005 SE Oatfield Acad (National Register Propu- large lot with many agricultural outbuildings. On moderate-to-heavily traveled road. In neighborhood of early and mid-20th century residential buildings. Is remarkable. Several barns, sheds, and chicken coops are extant. The largest outbuild moved closer to the house when surrounding property was sold. HISTORY (Chronological, descriptive history of the property from its construction through al least the historic period - preferably to the present) SUBJECT FROPERTY The John R. Oatfield House is a very good example of Colonial Revival style architecture. The rectangular plan, dentils, Doric columns, plasters with caps are typical Colonial Revival estile, which way soppular in Orgon from 1855 until 1800. Royal Oatfield was the son of pioneer, Michael Oatfield, who arrived in the Milwa	NR date listed: N	I/A				106 Project(s):	None
Mean Description Idate: Project(s): None	ILS survey date: 0	9/30/2007					None
Project(s): None ARCHITECTURAL / PROPERTY DESCRIPTION Includes expanded description of the building/property, setting, significant landscape features, outbuildings and alterations) ROOF FORM & MATERIALS: Truncated hip roof PRIMARY WINDOW TYPE: Long, double-hung sash. Hip dormers. DECORATIVE FEATURES: Plasters with capitals. Dentilis and brackets. OTHER: Encircling front porth with Doric columns. ALTERATIONS: Cresting removed from roof, n.d. Facade windows altered, n.d. Addition to rear of house, 1975. ASSOCIATED STRUCTURES: Garage, utility barn, pump house, chicken house, sheds. Utility barn has brick foundation. The outbuildings have been moved and are not in their original location. LANDSCAPE: Konkey puzzle tree. Four Glaint Sequoia Trees planted by John F. Broetje. G. vines (as of 6-86, 60 - 70 yrs. Old) - could be associated with Broetje vineyard at the John F. Broetje House @ 14005 SE Oatfield Road (National Register Propilarge lot with many agricultural outbuildings. On moderate-to-heavity traveled road. In neighborhood of early and mid-20th century residential buildings. The settil this house, despite its contemporary suburban residential surroundings, is remarkable. Several barns, sheds, and chicken coops are extant. The largest outbuild moved closer to the house when surrounding property was sold. HISTORY (Chronological, descriptive history of the property from its construction through at least the historic period - preferably to the present) SUBJECT PROPERTY The John R. Oatfield House is a very good example of Colonial Revival style architecture. The rectangular plan, dentils, Doric columns, a plasters with caps are typical Colonial Revival and the ast the historic period - preferably to the present) SUBJECT PROPERTY The John R. Oatfield House is a ver		6/01/1986				• • • •
Includes expanded description of the building/property, setting, significant landscape features, outbuildings and alterations) ROOF FORM & MATERIALS: Truncated hip roof PRIMARY WINDOW TYPE: Long, double-hung sash. Hip dormers. DECORATIVE FEATURES: Pliasters with capitals. Dentitis and brackets. OTHER: Encircling from porth with Doric columns, ALTERATIONS: Cresting removed from roof, n.d. Facade windows altered, n.r. Addition to rear of house, 1975. ASSOCIATED STRUCTURES: Garage, utility barn, pump house, chicken house, sheds. Utility barn has brick foundation. The outbuildings have been moved and are not in their original location. LANDSCAPE: Monkey puzzle tree. Four Giant Sequoia Trees planted by John F. Broetje. G vise (as of 6.6, 60 - 70 yrs. Old) - could be associated with Broetje ei vineyard at the John F. Broetje House @ (14005 SE Cattiel ARad (Mational Register Prop) large lot with many agricultural outbuildings. On moderate-to-heavily traveled road. In neighborhood of early and mid-20th century residential buildings. The settil this house, despite its contemporary suburban residential surroundings, is remarkable. Several barns, sheds, and chicken coops are extant. The largest outbuild moved closer to the house when surrounding property was sold. WISTORY (Chronological, descriptive history of the property from its construction through at least the historic period - preferably to the present) SubJECT PROPERTY The John R. Oatfield House is a very good example of Colonial Revival style architecture. The rectangular plan, dentils, Doric columns, i plasters with caps are typical Colonial Revival elements. The use of narrow shipplap seems to indicate a sensitivity on the part of the designer to the scale of the The carved eave brackets on this 1903 house displa	uutoi						None
(Includes expanded description of the building/property, setting, significant landscape features, outbuildings and alterations) ROOF FORM & MATERIALS: Truncated hip roof PRIMARY WINDOW TYPE: Long, double-hung sash. Hip dormers. DECORATIVE FEATURES: Pliasters with capitals. Dentils and brackets. OTHER: Encircling front porth with Doric columns. ALTERATIONS: Cresting removed from roof, nd. Facade windows alterd, n.r. Addition to rear of house, 1975. ASSOCIATED STRUCTURES: Garage, utility barn, pump house, chicken house, sheds. Utility barn has brick foundation. The outbuildings have been moved and are not in their original location. LANDSCAPE: Monkey puzzle tree. Four Giant Sequoia Trees planted by John F. Broetje. G vines (as of 68, 60 - 70 yrs. Old) - could be associated with Broetje vineyard at the John F. Broetje House @ (14005 SE Cattelle) Attaktional Register Propri- large to with many agricultural outbuildings. On moderate-to-heavily traveled road. In neighborhood of early and mid-20th century residential buildings. The settil this house, despite its contemporary suburban residential surroundings, is remarkable. Several barns, sheds, and chicken coops are extant. The largest outbuild moved closer to the house when surrounding properly was sold. HISTORY (Chronological, descriptive history of the property from its construction through at least the historic period - preferably to the present) SUBJECT PROPERTY The John R. Oatfield House is a very good example of Colonial Revival style architecture. The rectangular plan, dentils, Doric columns, i plaaters with caps are typical Colonial Revival elements. The use of narrow shipplap seems to indicate a sensitivity on the part of the designer to the scale of the The carved eave brackets on this 1903 house display an influence lingering from the earlier lalianate style, which was popular in Oregon from 1855 until 1800. Royal Oatfield was the son of pioneer, Michael Oatfield, who arrived in the Mikwakie vicinity in 1861. Here he purchased land from Or	ARCHITECTURAL / PROPERTY DESCRIPTION
capitals. Dentils and brackets. OTHER: Encircling front porth with Doric columns. ALTERATIONS: Creating removed from roof, n.d. Facade windows altered n.n. Addition to rear of house, 1975. ASSOCIATED STRUCTURES: Garage, utility barn, pump house, chicken house, sheds. Utility barn has brick foundation. The outbuildings have been moved and are not in their original location. LANDSCAPE: Monkey puzzle tree. Four Giant Sequoia Trees planted by John F. Broetje. G vines (as of 6-86, 60 - 70 yrs. Old) - could be associated with Broetje vineyard at the John F. Broetje House @ 14005 SE Oatfield Road (National Register Proper large lot with many agricultural outbuildings. On moderate-to-heavily traveled road. In neighborhood of early and mid-20th century residential buildings. The setti this house, despite its contemporary suburban residential surroundings, is remarkable. Several barns, sheds, and chicken coops are extant. The largest outbuild moved closer to the house when surrounding property was sold. HISTORY (Chronological, descriptive history of the property from its construction through at least the historic period - preferably to the present) SUBJECT PROPERTY The John R. Oatfield House is a very good example of Colonial Revival style architecture. The rectangular plan, dentils, Doric columns, . plasters with caps are typical Colonial Revival elements. The use of narrow shiplap seems to indicate a sensitivity on the part of the designer to the scale of the The carved eave brackets on this 1903 house display an influence lingering from the earlier Italianate style, which was popular in Oregon from 1855 until 1890. Royal Oatfield was the son of pioneer, Michael Oatfield, who arrived in the Milwaukie vicinity in 1861. Here he purchased land from Ornin Kellogg, upon whose d land claim the subject house is located. Michael assembled 600 acres for orchards and farming . His sons, John R. and Phillip, expanded the Kellogg orchand for jar years. He was also an active promuter of good roads, obtaini
(Chronological, descriptive history of the property from its construction through at least the historic period - preferably to the present) SUBJECT PROPERTY The John R. Oatfield House is a very good example of Colonial Revival style architecture. The rectangular plan, dentils, Doric columns, plasters with caps are typical Colonial Revival elements. The use of narrow shiplap seems to indicate a sensitivity on the part of the designer to the scale of the The carved eave brackets on this 1903 house display an influence lingering from the earlier Italianate style, which was popular in Oregon from 1855 until 1890 Royal Oatfield was the son of pioneer, Michael Oatfield, who arrived in the Milwaukie vicinity in 1861. Here he purchased land from Orrin Kellogg, upon whose d land claim the subject house is located. Michael assembled 600 acres for orchards and farming . His sons, John R. and Phillip T., expanded the Kellogg orchard principally apples, which were shipped to California and the East. The first shipments used Risley's Willamette landing, although later the produce was shipped velectric interurban railroad. The brothers were instrumental in establishing the Oak Lodge Water District and rural telephone service. John sat on the local school for 25 years. He was also an active promoter of good roads, obtaining the 10-mil special road tax to improve Old River Road and "pestering County Commission they put in Oatfield Road." John and Phillip were early stockholders in First State Bank, the predecessor of PacWest Bank. They both later served as directors. I possible that the subject house could have been built by Michael Oatfield and his wife Minerva Thessing, who in 1936, was named the Queen Mother of the Pior Oregon. Oatfield Road in the Oak Grove area was named for this family. RESEARCH INFORMATION Census Records Singraphical Sources	outbuildings have been moved and are not in their original location. LANDSCAPE: Monkey puzzle tree. Four Giant Sequoia Trees planted by John F. Broetje. Grape vines (as of 6-86, 60 - 70 yrs. Old) - could be associated with Broetje vineyard at the John F. Broetje House @ 14005 SE Oatfield Road (National Register Property). On large lot with many agricultural outbuildings. On moderate-to-heavily traveled road. In neighborhood of early and mid-20th century residential buildings. The setting for this house, despite its contemporary suburban residential surroundings, is remarkable. Several barns, sheds, and chicken coops are extant. The largest outbuilding was
SUBJECT PROPERTY The John R. Oatfield House is a very good example of Colonial Revival style architecture. The rectangular plan, dentils, Doric columns, pilasters with caps are typical Colonial Revival elements. The use of narrow shiplap seems to indicate a sensitivity on the part of the designer to the scale of the The carved eave brackets on this 1903 house display an influence lingering from the earlier Italianate style, which was popular in Oregon from 1855 until 1880. Royal Oatfield was the son of pioneer, Michael Oatfield, who arrived in the Milwaukie vicinity in 1861. Here he purchased land from Orrin Kellogg, upon whose d land the subject house is located. Michael assembled 600 acres for orchards and farming . His sons, John R. and Phillip T., expanded the Kellogg orchard principally apples, which were shipped to California and the East. The first shipments used Risley's Willamette landing, although later the produce was shipped velectric interurban railroad. The brothers were instrumental in establishing the Oak Lodge Water District and rural telephone service. John sat on the local school for 25 years. He was also an active promoter of good roads, obtaining the 10-mil special road tax to improve Old River Road and "pestering County Commission they put in Oatfield Road." John and Phillip were early stockholders in First State Bank, the predecessor of PacWest Bank. They both later served as directors. I possible that the subject house could have been built by Michael Oatfield and his wife Minerva Thessing, who in 1936, was named the Queen Mother of the Pior Oregon. Oatfield Road in the Oak Grove area was named for this family. RESEARCH INFORMATION Title Records Sanborn Maps Obituaries Wewspapers Building Permits Building Permits State Library	HISTORY pilasters with caps are typical Colonial Revival elements. The use of narrow shiplap seems to indicate a sensitivity on the part of the designer to the scale of the The carved eave brackets on this 1903 house display an influence lingering from the earlier Italianate style, which was popular in Oregon from 1855 until 1890. Royal Oatfield was the son of pioneer, Michael Oatfield, who arrived in the Milwaukie vicinity in 1861. Here he purchased land from Orrin Kellogg, upon whose di principally apples, which were shipped to California and the East. The first shipments used Risley's Willamette landing, although later the produce was shipped velectric interurban railroad. The brothers were instrumental in establishing the Oak Lodge Water District and rural telephone service. John sat on the local schood for 25 years. He was also an active promoter of good roads, obtaining the 10-mil special road tax to improve Old River Road and "pestering County Commission they put in Oatfield Road." John and Phillip were early stockholders in First State Bank, the predecessor of PacWest Bank. They both later served as directors. I possible that the subject house could have been built by Michael Oatfield and his wife Minerva Thessing, who in 1936, was named the Queen Mother of the Pior Oregon. Oatfield Road in the Oak Grove area was named for this family. RESEARCH INFORMATION Title Records Sanborn Maps Obituaries Newspapers Building Permits State Library
 Title Records Census Records Property Tax Records Local Histories Sanborn Maps Biographical Sources SHPO Files Interviews Interviews Historic Photographs State Library 	pilasters with caps are The carved eave brack Royal Oatfield was the land claim the subject principally apples, whi electric interurban rail for 25 years. He was a they put in Oatfield Re possible that the subject	e typical Colonial R kets on this 1903 h e son of pioneer, M house is located. I ch were shipped to road. The brothers also an active prom vad." John and Phil act house could ha	evival elements. The oouse display an infl lichael Oatfield, who viichael assembled do california and the l were instrumental in oter of good roads, lip were early stockk we been built by Mic	a use of narrow s uence lingering f arrived in the M 500 acres for orc East. The first sh e establishing the obtaining the 10 holders in First S nael Oatfield and	shiplap from th lilwauk chards hipmen e Oak 0-mil sp State B	e seems to indicate a ser e earlier Italianate style, ie vicinity in 1861. Here l and farming . His sons, ts used Risley's Willame Lodge Water District and pecial road tax to improve ank, the predecessor of	sitivity on the part of the which was popular in Or he purchased land from 0 John R. and Phillip T., ex tte landing, although lart trural telephone service. e Old River Road and "pe PacWest Bank. They bol	designer to the scale of the house. egon from 1855 until 1890. John Orrin Kellogg, upon whose donation kpanded the Kellogg orchards, er the produce was shipped via the John sat on the local school board estering County Commissioners until th later served as directors. It is
Sanborn MapsBiographical SourcesSHPO FilesInterviewsObituariesNewspapersState ArchivesHistoric PhotographsCity DirectoriesBuilding PermitsState Library	RESEARCH INFO	RMATION
Obituaries Newspapers State Archives Historic Photographs City Directories Building Permits State Library	•
City Directories Building Permits State Library			• •	ources			- s
Local Library: University Library:
Historical Society: Other Respository:
Bibliography:

Rothschild, Mrs. James, unrecorded interview with Pam Hayden, October 1983. "Oregon Journal", 30 October 1935, p.11. "Oregon Journal", 28 March 1950, p.8. First State Bank of Milwaukie, "As We Remember It," 1959. Clackamas County Cultural Resource Inventory, 1984. Clackamas County Tax Assessor records, Oregon City, OR. TICOR Title Company, Oregon City, OR. "Trees of Greater Portland". By Phyllis C. Reynolds & Elizabeth F. Dimon, Timber Press, Portland OR, 1993. pg. 186.